THE Uniontown Genius says: For several days past, a terrific fire has been raging in the mountains to the left of the National Road as you ascend Laurel Hill. On Monday night the lurid flames lit up the whole eastern horizon, and from the elevated standpoint from which we viewed the scene, it resembled a vast city on fire. Great damage must have been done to the timber.

AN accident at the Dunbar furnace near Uniontown, occasioned by a break in the inner lining which allowed the gas to escape into the stone work of the stack resulting in the fall of ten or fifteen feet of outer wall, has caused the suspension of work, which can probably not be resumed for two months. Important improvements are to be made in the furnace and a remarkably fine engine has been ordered from Pittsburgh so that the weekly run hereafter will be about 175 tons.

THE Johnstown Democrat says: Mr. John C. Riffle of this city showed us the other day an egg, the shell of which at one end was broken by a member of his family who was about to use it for cooking purposes, when it was discovered that within the egg, were five kernels of oats which had germinated and had sprouts on them nearly or quite half an inch long. The egg shell was perfectly sound and the egg fresh and fit for use. How came the oats in the egg? and how did they germinate and grow without the presence of air?

A NEW wrinkle has recently been developed in the shingle business. At one of our Doylestown lumber yards a car load of twenty-four thousand pine shingles was recently received from Michigan without transhipment. These shingles have been sawed out in the ordinary way, and then passed through a planing machine which cuts the surface in such a manner as to leave a number of ridges, about an inch apart, on the exposed portion. It is asserted that shingles prepared in this way will shed rain better and dry more quickly afterward than the common article. The price is no higher than that of other shingles.

The expenses of changing will not exceed five hundred dollars a mile, and as there are less than eight thousand miles of road requiring alteration, the whole cost of the work would not exceed $4,000,000.

THE Hoosac Tunnel, it is reported, is now progressing at the rate of ten feet a day—four feet from the west end, and six feet from the east end. The central shaft is descending at the rate of a foot a day, and it is asserted, will be completed in about four months. The tunnel has been excavated 11,765 feet at both portals, that is 6946 feet east side, and 4819 feet on the west side.

A MONTANA correspondent of the Springfield Republican, referring to the Piegan massacre, says: "In our private, humble opinion, the world would sustain a greater loss in the sacrifice of a single white man of average character and development, than in the extermination of all the wild worthless tribes that would make a wilderness of the fairest portions of the earth's surface."

LITHOFRACTEUR, a new explosive agent, said to have twenty times the force of powder and five times that of nitro-glycerine, is of a deep bluish color, resembling mud and about the consistency of putty. It is put into a hole drilled for the purpose, without tamping or covering of any kind except a handful of fine clay to keep it in place, and is fired by a fuse ending in a copper cap, made for the purpose. ADMIRAL PORTER has written a letter in which he says that the Delaware is the most defensible river in the world, and that Chester is the very best location in the United States for building iron ships. THE N. Y. Freeman's Journal has a severe onslaught on Rev. Dr. McGlynn, pastor of St. Stephen's (Roman Catholic) Church, Twenty-eighth street, for giving expression to sentiments favorable to the existing public school system. The editor says:

"The scandal is too open, too prominent to be passed over. * * * If there be a living discipline of the Catholic Church in the administration of the diocese of New York, Dr. McGlynn must reverse his action, or cease to have charge of St. Stephen's Church and congregation. And if there be no such living discipline in this diocese the Bishop of Bishops must take note of this affair.

The Commercial's Attack on Gen. Howard.

As the investigation into the Howard case moves on, the animus which governs the affair becomes more and more manifest. Gen Howard wished the investigation to be public, but the committee decided otherwise; still a son of Dr. Boynton's, the Washington correspondent of the Commercial of this city, and also of prominent papers from other western cities, is daily transmitting what purports to be evidence before the committee, but which is in fact only a budget of items squeezed out of witnesses before they go before the committee, or after they have appeared, and grossly perverted so as to suit his own wishes in tending to create a prejudice against Gen. Howard by misrepresentation before the truth shall be declared. We wish, therefore, to state what we know to be true, that, so far, although not a word has been said by Gen. Howard, not a shadow of one charge has been made out. As to Dr. Boynton's testimony, that he knew nothing of the charges, those residing in Washington, who have knowledge of a certain meeting in his house, before these charges were made, and of who composed that meeting, and who know the character of Dr. B. himself, can at least see the antecedent and the consequent.

As to the charges, just notice that it is said General Howard receives the pay of a Major General, as Superintendent of the "Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands," and also as Superintendent of Colored Schools. General Howard does not draw any other pay than that of Brigadier General in the Regular Army. Then as to the bricks of which the University was made, it was unanimously resolved by the Board of Directors Dr. B. being then President of the Board, to adopt them. Gen. H. was not interested in the patent, and had the bricks been properly made, it would have been the best thing they could have done. The building is now safe and becoming more firm daily. This University alone will cause General Howard to be gratefully remembered, ages after the B. family shall have been forgotten. This structure, 201 feet long, by 36 to 50 in width, is one of the finest buildings in appearance around Washington, and cost but $60,000 at a time when materials and labor were at their highest points.

Proslavery hate and rebel spite are called in to aid in injuring one who has done so much to elevate a class despised by such men as F. Wood. The friends of Gen. H. sought this investigation when the charges were made. They insisted for an opportunity to separate the acts performed by other persons from these for which Gen. Howard is responsible. They confidently believed that such an investigation would place Gen. Howard before the country as an upright, pure, noble man—as he is—and they are now sure this will be the case. It is due to a brave officer, and most unselfish man, that so much should be said in advance of the Committee's report, when such determined efforts are made by such persons as the Commercial's correspondent to sully his fame.

OIL NEWS.

THE Venango Citizen says:

There is great activity among oil operators in this vicinity at present. A large amount of territory is being leased by experienced operators and capitalists; new rigs are being put up in many localities, and the indications are that a great breadth of territory surrounding Franklin will be developed this season.

On last Wednesday the "Lock Well," situated near the Venango Mills, was torpedoed, and is now producing at the rate of eight barrels per day. This well is pumped by water power, and is probably the best paying well in the oil region, requiring no attendance of any kind, except furnishing the tankage for the reception of the oil.

Chess & Co.'s well holds out steadily, at the rate of 12 bbls. per day.

The Vincent well, noticed last week, is producing 15 bbls per day.

Vincent well, No. 2, ready to drill.

Mackey well, No. 1, pumping 2 bbls.

Mackey well, No. 2, pumping 2 bbls.

Mackey wells Nos. 1 and 2 have been producing at the rate given above, for ten years, and now give promise of larger production.

Smith well, producing 4 bbls.

Miller, Austin & Co., producing 1 bbl. per day.

Farringer & De Armer well, 2 bbls.

Smith, Hastings & Co.'s well, 2 bbls.

Steven Smith well, 1 bbl.

McAllister & Snow, 2 bbls.

Mumford well, 1 bbl.

Connelly & Co., on Evans lot, 4 bbls.

Capt. J. C. Hall, on Evans lot, 1 bbl.

Many other rigs are being erected on the Evans lot and adjoining territory.

The wells of Vincent & Co., Chess & Co., Mackey, and Miller, Austin & Co., producing, are still on the "Point," which is considered first-class territory, and leases there command one-fourth royalty.

NEW YORK CITY.

The McFarland Trial—Summing Up for Defense—Voyage of the City of Brussels—Fenian Movements—Tunneling East and North Rivers.

NEW YORK, May 6, 1870.

M'FARLAND TRIAL.

The announcement that counsel for the defense would sum up to-day attracted an immense throng to the Court room this morning. It transpired at an early hour that for reasons unknown to the public, Judge Davis would not sum up for the prosecution, and that his connection with the case was thus virtually ended. This rumor caused much sensation among the friends of Richardson, and it was unhesitatingly asserted that outside influence had been brought to bear to preclude Judge Davis from summing up, as was his intention.

When the Recorder had taken his seat, the counsel for the defense commenced his closing speech amid breathless silence. Mr. Graham said that for years the prisoner had borne the pitiless pelting of misfortune and wrong, and now he had at last found refuge in a court of justice. He had "loved not wisely, but too well." The story of his woes must have gone to the depth of their souls. Could not the prisoner ask with confidence, "Could I have done less, and ought I not have done more?" The allegation of the prosecution was not that the individual who had passed to his fate, had not merited his doom, but that however righteous had been that doom, he received it at the hands of an unauthorized agent. The question, then, for the jury was, the mental condition of the accused when the deed was committed. There were two incidents in the trial well worthy of observation. One was the appearance of private counsel in the case; the other was the rejection of three jurors who happened to be countrymen of the prisoner. These men were good and respectable citizens, eligible as jurors, and their exclusion by the District Attorney was utterly indefensible. The jury would remember the question put by private counsel to one of the witnesses, viz: "Was it at a Fourierite establishment that McFarland was living?" Who inspired the question? Were they to conclude that this wicked woman had betrayed the secrets entrusted to her as a wife? Other questions by private counsel proved that private malice was at the back of the prosecution. Captious objections to the course of the defence were raised at every point, when it was sought to prove that Mrs. McFarland had received the proceeds of an insurance on Richardson's life. An objection was raised that the prisoner was prevented from showing the motives of this wicked woman in deserting her husband. It was charged that the defense had tried to make this trial sensational. But the complaint that the trial was monotonous, which was made in all the papers, sufficiently disproved this absurd charge. He wished to impress upon the jury that this was a case of murder, or nothing. Any such compromise as sending the prisoner to the State prison would be a violation of their oaths. If, upon the whole case, the jury entertained a doubt of the sanity of the prisoner, they were bound to acquit him.

Mr. Graham's plea for the prisoner was almost entirely devoted thus far to the legal and technical questions involved in the case, chief importance being given to the insanity theory of the defense. Many authorities, precedents and official reports of previous cases were cited, by which Mr. Graham maintained the principles which would justify the acquittal of the prisoner had been fully established.

The counsel entered into a discussion of the different varieties of insanity, claiming that if the prisoner was found insane at the instant of shooting only, he was not morally responsible and must be acquitted. Mr. Graham cited the Cole-Hiscock case as the exact counterpart of this, and the Sickles-Keyes case, paying a high compliment to Edwin M. Stanton, one of the counsel, and the Rodgers case from Massachusetts, in which Chief Justice Shaw charged the jury that the prisoner must possess and be in the full exercise of memory, intelligence, reason and will to be morally accountable for his acts. Mr. Graham said if McFarland meant to kill Richardson, and was sane, he could not have chosen a more unauspicious place than the Tribune office, where the odds were all against him.

The counsel thus far in the argument had not commented on the relations between Richardson and McFarland, the alleged conspiracy to separate McFarland and his wife, and other prominent points of Mr. Spencer's opening speech. The case will be resumed Monday.

LOG OF THE VOYAGE.

The latest European mails brings an abstract of the log of the Inman steamship City of Brussels, detailing the recent eventful voyage hence to Liverpool. She left New York on the 28th of March, and on the third day out unfortunately lost the blades of her propeller. On April 1st was spoken by the steamship Idaho, who offered to tow her back to this port, but the Captain declined this offer, as, with the exception of the loss of her propeller, the ship was staunch and tight in every particular. The passengers of the City of Brussels were asked if they wished to return to New York in the Idaho, being assured that all wishing it would, with their baggage, be transferred, but all refused, when the Captain made sail and proceeded after sending news of the accident to this port. On the 14th of April the steamship Bellona, bound from New York to London, was spoken and the same offer made to the passengers, but they unanimously refused passage in another vessel, and it is worthy of record that letters sent by her to London arrived at Liverpool the day after the City of Brussels reached port under canvas. The same authority flatly contradicts the report in that city, that the Brussels had lost her sails. This was a shameful fabrication, as she neither lost nor split a sail on the passage. The log in question stamps her as being one of the fastest vessels afloat under canvas.

FENIANS MEAN BUSINESS.

There is every reason to believe that the Fenians mean business. The utmost activity prevails among officials, men being dispatched daily to different points to facilitate the concentration of the army, which is said to number thirty-three thousand well disciplined men. O'Neill says he is fully provided with means, and that contributions are flowing in rapidly. He further says that the statement that the 10th May is set down as the time for the grand movement is incorrect.

A special correspondent from Montreal writes that Riel is so elated with his greatness that he has dropped his scheme for annexation to the United States, and will be satisfied with nothing else than independent nationality. O'Donahue, one of Riel's Ministry, is a Fenian, and hopes to make Winnepeg the battle ground between the Brotherhood and the Canadians.

TUNNELING EAST AND NORTH RIVERS.

The Senate Commerce Committee yesterday authorized Senator Conkling to prepare a bill providing for the tunneling of East and North rivers. The corporators who ask Congress to grant them the privilege reside in this city and as soon as the bill is passed, intend to proceed at once with the undertaking. Materials are already on the ground with which to commence it.

MEMPHIS.

General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

MEMPHIS, May 6.—In the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Bishop Kavanagh in the chair, after the usual religious exercises, Dr. Young, of Nashville, from the Board of Diocese Missions, made an elaborate report, showing that despite the effects of the war, the work steadily progressed. The balance remaining in the treasury is two thousand dollars.

A communication was read from churches of Louisville asking for the removal of the Book Concern from Nashville to that city, guaranteeing fifty thousand dollars to defray the expenses of removal. It was referred to the Committee on Books, Periodicals, &c., with instructions to report as early as possible.

A communication from the Ladies' Memorial Association, asking the attendance of delegates at the decoration of Federal graves at Elmwood Cemetery to-morrow, provoked discussion. Several members spoke against taking any action as a body that should have any political coloring whatever. Dr. Marshall thought it an insult to the good sense of the people of the North to suppose they would attach any political significance to our weeping over our dead. He was willing to weep with them over their dead that lay around Vicksburg, and believed they would do the same with us. Finally a motion to adjourn at eleven o'clock to-morrow, to allow the members to attend the decoration, prevailed.

A communication was presented from the Board of Domestic Missions, urging Conference to take steps to purchase lots for church purposes in towns springing up along the line of the Union and Central Pacific railroads, to counteract the work of other churches in that quarter.

Adjourned.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, May 6.—Harry Kelly, who won the recent match with Bright on the river Tyne, at New Castle, has received from his Northern admirers at New Castle a gold medal, with a purse of sixty sovereigns.

The residence of Lady Beaumont was entered by burglars last night, who escaped with jewelry valued at ten thousand pounds sterling.

The London Times, in an editorial of this morning, ridicules the French assassination story, and, notwithstanding the recognition of the existence of a plot to murder the Emperor, and the announcement by the French government, on yesterday, of a special session of the High Court of Justice to investigate the affair and punish the offenders, the Times remains incredulous, and does not believe that Mazzini and Flourens would foolishly allow the French government to obtain written proofs of their complicity in the conspiracy.

It is stated that the expedition recently organized to operate against the Red River insurgents has been abandoned, owing to the recent receipt of favorable news from that region.

Mr. Mansell, under Colonial Secretary, explained that the compromise of the Red River difficulty had been effected by the introduction into the Dominion Parliament of a bill creating the province of Manitoba. He stated that Canada would retain all the public lands of the new province, with exception of 120,000 acres, to secure its debt.

The House of Commons was provoked to a long discussion, last evening, on a point of order, it having been stated that M. Whaley, member for Petersborough, had published certain comments on the proceedings. No result was reached.

The Pall Mall Gazette, in behalf of Geo. W. Smalley, states on authority that he was ignorant of the alleged conspiracy and of the contents of letters sent to Gustave Flourens, in his case.

The Times continues editorarily to belittle the French conspiracy. It says to-day the peril lies less in the strength of those who would inflict than in the weakness of those who would resist conspiracy.

The House of Lords to-day was engaged on business of local interest.

In the Commons Mr. Otway submitted another installment of correspondence with the Greek Government on the recent massacre.

Mr. Stansfield, Secretary of the Treasury, stated that £7,000,000 paid for telegraph lines was included in the sum total of £801,000,000 of the national debt on March 3.

The international yacht race between the Cambria and Sappho, fixed for May 10, depends for a start on that day on the opinion of the umpires whether there exists a seven-knot breeze. The rounding point will be sixty miles to windward for the first two races, and the third race will be in a triangular course, each side twenty miles long. The umpires' steamer will take a select party to witness the races.

The Convocation has asked the Crown for a revision of the translation of the Bible.

FRANCE.

PARIS, May 6.—A meeting of the commanders of the troops stationed in and around this city is called for to-day, for the purpose of agreeing upon a plan of action for the enforcement of public order on Sunday next, the 8th inst., during the vote on the plebiscitum.

The Gaulois says the opposition party has sent a committee to London and Brussels to ascertain the real truth of the alleged conspiracy.

The Marseillaise was seized by the authorities to-day on account of the violence of its articles on political affairs.

Arrests continue of persons suspected of implication in the regicide plot.

General De Wimpfrie has reported to the War Department, from Oran, that the tribes of Algeria which recently revolted have submitted to French rule again. Two sharp engagements were had with the rebels on Sunday, the 3d, in both of which the French were successful.

There was a conference yesterday at the Tuilleries, at which Ollivier, Canroberts, Debou and the Minister of the Interior were present. The design of the conference was to agree upon the precautions necessary to be taken to preserve public order on Sunday next, the day of voting.

Mr. Smalley, of the New York Tribune, is here, and announces his readiness to answer all questions, though the authorities as yet have given him no occasion. He says he is acquainted with Flourens, met him in London and received letters for him, but knew nothing of the contents, and declares he had no knowledge of Flourens being in any way connected with the conspiracy.

PARIS, May 6.—The edition of the Rappel was seized to-day by the police.

Trouble is reported at Lyons, where the authorities interrupted the publication of a church newspaper.

The joint committee of Deputies of the Left and representatives of the Democratic press have issued another manifesto to electors. They protest against the trickery of the Government in publishing, on the eve of the election, violent and ill considered reports for the purpose of creating a panic. They denounce the Government for charging all its opponents with insurrection and assassination and for endeavoring to create the impression that France has escaped a great danger. The Committee say they despise these calumnies. France knows on which side are men of violence. She knows who got power by coup d'etat, and who reserve the right of coup d'etat.

American Medical Convention—Bills Approved by the President—Revival of Shipping Interests—Nominations—Revenue Receipts—Income and Special Taxes.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 6, 1870.

THE DOCTORS' CONVENTION—COLORED QUESTION AGAIN.

In the American Medical Convention to-day, the Committee on Ethics reported favorably on the credentials of delegates from the Women's Medical College and Women's Hospital at Philadelphia. The report was indefinitely postponed, but notice given of an amendment of the constitution not excluding women from the Association.

Resolutions looking to the discountenancing of the renewal of prescriptions by apothecaries, without due authority from physician, was referred to a special committee.

A resolution declaring Dr. Horace Wells, of Mass., the discoverer of anasthesis, was adopted.

Dr. John O'Sullivan, of Boston, offered a resolution that no distinction of race or color shall exclude persons from claiming admission to the Association who are duly accredited thereto. The resolution was received with a storm of hisses. Dr. Sands, of the Committee on Ethics, explained the reasons for the exclusion of the District of Columbia delegates, viz: that they were members of the National Medical Society, which society receives medical men who are not licentiates, openly violates the rules of the Association, misrepresented the action of the Medical Association of the District of Columbia, and is dishonorably endeavoring to procure the destruction thereof by inducing Congress to abrogate the charter.

Dr. Storer, of Boston, offered a resolution declaring the report of the committee adopted, which was carried—112 to 37.

Adjourned sine die.

BILLS APPROVED.

The President has signed the act to amend the act providing for the taking of the seventh and subsequent censuses of the United States, and to fix the number of members of the House of Representatives and provide for their future apportionment among the several States; also an act to fix the point of junction of the Union and Central Pacific Railroad Companies, and a joint resolution authorizing the supply of arms for instruction and practice to certain colleges and universities.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: The Question of Final Adjournment—Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriations—Publication of the Laws in Newspapers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 6, 1870.

SENATE.

Bills for the increase of fees of U. S. Marshals and others of the western district of Arkansas and to provide for special terms of the Circuit Court in the southern district of Ohio were reported on adversely to-day.

The House resolution for final adjournment July 4th coming up, motions to postpone and extend the time to August 1st were lost.

Mr. SUMNER opposed the resolution, and moved to table it. Lost—17 to 28.

Discussion followed, and the resolution was finally postponed till Friday, May 20th, by yeas 27, nays 25.

At 2:25 o'clock the Legislative, Executive and Judiciary appropriation bill was taken up, and the various amendments reported by the Committee on Appropriations agreed to.

An amendment to discontinue the publication of laws in newspapers was debated.

Mr. WILLIAMS favored the continuance of the system as the most efficient means of diffusing information as to what were the laws among the people.

Mr. MORTON said rather than abolish the system, he would provide for newspaper publication in every Congressional district. This might be expensive, but if it was important to enact laws, it was equally important to give the people means of finding out what they were.

Mr. ROSS thought the public money could not be appropriated to a better purpose.

Mr. ANTHONY said the publication of laws in newspapers was an entire waste of public money. It cost the Government about $100,000 a year, and publication was not completed in most papers until long after the adjournment of the session.

The amendment was agreed to in Committee of the Whole, with the understanding that a yeas and nays vote be taken in the Senate.

Mr. ANTHONY gave notice of an amendment abolishing the blue book.

Adjourned to Monday.

CUBA.

Arrival of the Ex-Cuban Chief Jordan—What He Reports—His Narrow Escape—Capture of the Rebel General Goicouria.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Gen. Thomas Jordan, late Commander-in-Chief of the Cuban insurgents, arrived on the Moro Castle, from Havana, this morning, and proceeded to the residence of Senor Lemus, Cuban Minister to this country, to deliver important dispatches. Gen. Jordan is accompanied by Col. Agramonte, brother of Gen. Agramonte, Col. Castillo, Maj. Betancourt, and other officers of the Cuban army, and after a visit to Washington will return to Cuba. His stay in this country, which has reference to procuring munitions of war, will be brief. Gen. Jordan reports the Cuban cause in better condition than at any previous stage, and that the success of the revolution depends on time. The Cuban army now numbers ten thousand men, well armed, equipped and supplied with artillery and mountain howitzers, sufficient for the present needs of the service. The season is now in favor of the revolutionists, giving them what they the most need, time for organization and collection of supplies. There are not over eighty foreigners in the Cuban army. Gen. Jordan says the Cubans are in no way discouraged at the prospect, and that the Spaniards have lost their opportunity for putting down the revolution.

Gen. Jordan left Cuba in a small sloop, and when three days out was chased by five steam gunboats, but a storm arising he made his escape.

General Jordan has furnished the Tribune with a detailed account of the condition of affairs in Cuba. He says the limit to an effectual army is not men, but weapons and trained officers. Powder the Cubans are making for themselves of superior quality. He just sent three thousand pounds of saltpetre from Nassau, sufficient to make three hundred thousand rounds. The Spaniards are drawing all their resources from sugar and coffee, and to do this occupy plantations with garrisons of fifty to one hundred men, necessarily diminishing their effective strength. General Jordan expects to raise an American neuclus, around which Cubans will rally, and on his return will carry on the war in the Cinco Villas district. He praises both the negro and Chinese soldiers. The latter fight splendidly, while of the former he expects to obtain some use of them as servants in Cuba. He says Cuba can ultimately become free through a guerilla system, but with a supply of arms the war would be a short one, and the plantations be saved to commerce. The cruelties of the Spaniards are incredible. Under no circumstances do they spare a prisoner, and this policy forced the Cubans to retaliate in some instances. He, however, had only shot three, though he now regards retaliation perfectly legitimate.

His account of military operations is very interesting, though containing little not already known. Many Cubans he says favor annexation to the United States, the only ones against it being in Nassau and New York. Cespedes has not been deposed and was on the first of April at Caonas, while the Cuban Congress was in session near at hand. A new Cabinet, however, has been formed. The Spaniards are no nearer a re-establishment of their power than a year ago.

HAVANA, May 6.—Two sailors belonging to a Spanish man-of-war captured the rebel General Goicouria on Guagaba Island. The remainder of the party, consisting of a Canadian, three pilots and two Cubans, are still at large on the island, and three Spanish gunboats closely watching to prevent their escape. After Goicouria's capture he was taken to Puerto Principe and soon after ordered to Havana, under a guard of naval officers, for trial. He is expected to-morrow.

—A young lady who gave birth to an illegitimate child, which was found dead in a graveyard near Columbus, Ohio, a short time since, died Thursday night. Her seducer was the seducer of her sister, whom he married about eight weeks ago. He has left Columbus.

—Rev. Frederick Fremont Lovell, pastor of the Universalist Church in Essex, Mass., is accused of gross licentiousness, and it is reported left his parish and the town under threats of a coat of tar and feathers.

—A disastrous fire occurred at Wilkesbarre, Pa., yesterday morning, which destroyed some half dozen barns and outbuildings and the extensive livery stable of P. Corneff, in which thirty-one horses were burned to death.

—A disastrous storm prevailed yesterday at Council Bluffs, Iowa. A church, just completed at a cost of $15,000, was entirely demolished and numerous small buildings were destroyed. The loss it is estimated will aggregate $30,000.

—Only twenty-five persons, all reported Democrats, assembled at Dover, Delaware, on Thursday, in response to a call for a "White Man's Convention." The attendance was so small that it was decided not to organize, and the movement is probably dead.

—It is understood there is a final and determined secret movement among the leaders in the present coal strike in the East to persuade the Lehigh and Wyoming men to join them. They are becoming convinced that unless other regions suspend they cannot succeed.

—At Kalamazoo, Michigan, Thursday, Fred. Warner, sixteen years of age, shot and killed Albert Smith, of the firm of Hurd & Smith, butchers. A quarrel had occured between them, when the boy went into his house, got a gun, and shot Smith in the head. He is in custody.

—A circular has been issued by the proper committee at Richmond, Va., announcing that arrangements are completed for the distribution of funds received for sufferers by the recent calamity in that city. Five thousand dollars were received on Thursday from Northern cities.

—A fire at Quincy, Illinois, Thursday night, destroyed fifteen business houses, including the Daily Herald office, causing a loss of $300,000. The amount of insurance is not yet known. The principal sufferers are James A. Parker, Daily Herald; Bristol & Co., Emmars & Aldrich, Murphy & Charles, and Dr. Ralston.

—At Zanesville, Ohio, Fridgy morning, the boilers of the new power house of the Water-works exploded, demolishing the building. The fireman was blown through the roof and alighted fifty feet away, receiving probably fatal injuries. The engineer was not much hurt. No other persons were in the building. Loss $100,000.

—The proceedings of the Southern Baptist Convention at Louisville, yesterday, were unimportant, other than the appointment of committees and the report of the Memphis Sunday-school Board. They decline co-operation with northern societies at present, doubting the practicability or benefits to arise therefrom.

—On the night of the 2d, near Millville Station, on the Honesdale branch of the Erie Railway, as John Hayes and wife were retiring, a musket loaded with buckshot was fired through the window, several of the shot lodging in the brain of the former. He was alive at last accounts, but no hope entertained of his recovery.

—The last Legislature of Louisiana repealed the old statutes for the punishment of crimes, etc., and enacted the laws now in force, but made no provision for the prosecution of persons charged with crimes committed prior to April 1st, 1870, leaving a hiatus through which one hundred and twenty-five persons indicted for various offences will likely go unpunished.

—In Chicago a public meeting will be held to-day with a view to effect a permanent organization of those in favor of closing the saloons on Sunday. A city ordinance requires them to be closed, but the Mayor declines to enforce it, and the Common Council being appealed to, turned the matter over to him. Over two thousand places for selling liquor are open every day.

—An important suit is now progressing in the United States Circuit Court at Cincinnati, involving the validity of the patent of Richard Tilghman, of Philadelphia, for the process of decomposing fats into fat acids and glycerine; also, whether certain manufactures at Cincinnati are not infringing upon the patent, if the same be valid. Yesterday was consumed by George Harding, of Philadelphia, in an argument for Mr. Tilghman the complainant.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER

Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1870.

BONDS in Frankfort, 95.

PETROLEUM in Antwerp, 53½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114¼.

THE Altoona Sun is to shine every day hereafter.

THE Pennsylvania Anti-Slavery Society formally disbanded itself at Philadelphia on the 5th. The war is over!

CONGRESS will pass the Northern Pacific Railroad bill on Monday. We may also look, next week, for a report in favor of a land grant to the Southern line, along the 32d parallel.

THE New York Times has lost its leading editor, a Mr. SHEPPARD, who is succeeded by Mr. JENNINGS, late the managing editor. The change is attributed to the ill health of the retiring journalist; but it is understood that he is really a victim of the late collision with the Tribune.

TALKING of the unanimity with which the guileless people of San Domingo, hungry for Republican liberty, are said to have voted for annexation to this Government, we hear that several thousand of them have signed a protest against the consummation of that plan, which document has been laid before our Senate.

IT is the general impression that Congress will really adjourn on the 4th of July. The only measures of public consequence, which will be enacted in the meantime, will be the funding bill, the needed amendments to the naturalization laws and the appropriation bills. This is about all that is expected, in the quarters best informed.

IT is satisfactorily known that a majority of the Ways and Means Committee, of the House, favors the retention, with slight modifications, of the seventh section in the Senate funding bill. This is the section which will require the banks to exchange their bonds for the new four and a half per cents or take the cash for their property in gold at par.

AN English Under Secretary stated in Parliament, on the 5th, that the Red River difficulty was settled. No basis for the statement has yet transpired on this side of the Atlantic. Our latest advices from Winnipeg report the colonists as entirely confident in their independent position, and even talking of annexation to the Republic. It will be curious to ascertain justly how much more the Secretary knew.

WE print an interesting communication relative to the charges against Gen. O. O. Howard. A card from the correspondent referred to has recently appeared, denying any concert of action with Fernando Wood. "Justice" makes an issue on that point, and is confident of his facts. We have no doubt that Gen. Howard will be handsomely exonerated—and then sycophantically eulogized, by a print which is now giving countenance to the base assaults of his enemies!

THE meeting of the Equal Rights League, an association of colored men, at Harrisburg, on the 3rd, was largely attended, and its proceedings were interesting. The resolutions were especially pointed and forcible, recognizing the Bible, the School and Republican politics as the redeeming and saving elements in our social order. To protect the interest of the race in our common school system, the League will continue its operations, adjourning now until August 13th.

THE Lake Shore and Southern Michigan Railroad earned, last year, $12,945,598.40 gross. Their operating expenses were $7,419,165.81; taxes $492,361.84, and net earnings $5,034,070.71. Out of this were paid two dividends of four per cent. each, and a surplus of $716,372.69 carried over. The operating expenses were fifty-seven per cent of the receipts. This great trunk-line has now passed under the control of the Vanderbilt's party; which thus controls the unbroken route via. Albany, Buffalo and Chicago to Omaha.

AND here is more of it! The Commercial, with a sanctimonious sniff of its virtuous nostrils, solemnly puts this query to the editor of a Republican journal in the interior:

> Will he pretend to say that he will vote for, and counsel others to do the same, men known to be openly and undisguisedly corrupt politicians? Does he believe the Republican party can long retain the respect and support of the honest masses by being "sticklers for the sanctity of nominations," and voting for bad and incompetent men?

—The Commercial talking about "the honest masses" again!! The report must be true, that its late Democratic editor, graduating into a red-hot opposition newspaper, out West, has been succeeded, in the charge of our "honesty and reform" neighbor, by Aminadab Sleek!

THE SENATE Finance Committee have been conferring freely with Mr. BOUTWELL, with a view to agreement upon an abatement of the internal taxes. It was very positively stated, a day or two since, that the amount of reduction in the receipts would not be suffered to exceed twenty millions of dollars. Yet these speculations were all wrong. The Committee, through its chairman, Mr. Sherman, has recommended a schedule which will remit over forty-three millions from the present revenue. If the final adjustment shall be on this basis, it will make any reduction of the general revenue from other sources quite out of the question. But while the House might concede the point as to some of the special taxes proposed to be thrown off, it is safe to predict that, as a whole, the programme of Mr. Sherman will not become law at this session.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Quite recently Rev. Dr. McCosh, the distinguished President of Princeton College, delivered a course of four philosophical lectures before the Methodist Theological Seminary, in Boston, in which he discussed "The Relation of the Sciences to Religion." The ministry and membership of other denominations were largely represented at these lectures. One of the Boston papers thinks that the appearance of a man like Dr. McCosh among the mimics who would fain set up their own bald and bloodless councils in place of the Divine Creator, is like a stiff north-east wind blowing through the mists and murky fogs, to let the people see that the eternal sun still shines clear and steady in the heavens. Such a mass of mummery, it argues, needed the silencing which so positive a presence guarantees. The learned doctor showed that Dr. Channing was a Rationalist, Theodore Parker an Intuitionalist, and Ralph Waldo Emerson a Dreamer. At the same time he paid his respects to Spencer, Mill, and Comte, and all that class of advocates of Free Thought, and showed the tendencies of its spread in the future. A correspondent of the Christian Intelligencer, referring in complimentary terms to the course, says the doctor evidently does not understand New England, as he seems to regard Boston a diminutive Germany, where philosophic systems prevail, and can be classified. If the doctor, he thinks, had treated the so-called philosophy of Boston as the stub or bob-tail of some English or Continental systems, he would have been more effective. It seems to be generally conceded that the lectures will do good, and help to strengthen the hands of the opponents of free thought.

The position of Hon. Stanley Matthews, a Presbyterian Elder, who appeared on the Anti-Bible side of the late celebrated case of reading the Bible in the Public Schools at Cincinnati, is severely criticised and condemned, notwithstanding his plea of being professionally employed. Granting his right to act in a legal capacity, the Presbyterian, of Philadelphia, says it "can not see how, as a Christian and an Elder, he can be excused for some of his remarks."

The National Baptist reports the membership to be 1,221,340. This shows that the Baptists have full 100,000 more members than the Methodists. But it should be borne in mind that the Southern Baptists are now united with their Northern brethren, while there are two distinct ecclesiastical systems of the Methodists. The membership, in other words, of the North and South, is as stated above, while the Methodist Episcopal Church (in the North) is about 1,100,000. The North and South make an aggregate of over two millions of members.

Rev. W. B. McIlvaine, senior pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, has resigned. The Banner says the pastorate of Mr. McIlvaine has been one of the longest and most successful in this region, and as a Presbyter he has been held in the highest esteem.

Bishop Bedell, during a late Episcopal Visitation to Columbus, Ohio, called attention to the fact that between Columbus and Marietta there is no Episcopal church, except at Lancaster; and between Marietta and Ironton there are but two small churches—one at Pomeroy and the other at Gallipolis. This is surprising in view of the devoted labors of Bishops McIlvaine and Bedell in that diocese.

The birth-day, seventy-sixth, of the venerable Bishop Morris, senior member of the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was observed at his residence, "Salubria," Springfield, Ohio, several days ago, with some eclat. Representatives were present, ministerial and lay, from different denominations, the press, and other interests. After the reading of the venerable Bishop Morris, "Birthday Reflections," Hon. E. G. Dial, in behalf of the assembled guests, presented the Bishop with a beautiful hunting case gold watch, accompanying the same with an appropriate speech, to which the Bishop replied. Other speeches were made, and a poem written for the occasion, commencing, "All hail, all hail our natal day." was handed to the Bishop.

It is gratifying to note that the late Mr. George Peabody was a true Christian, and not the kind of a man some of the semi-infidel sheets have been claiming him to be. Not long before Mr. Peabody died he said to the pastor of the Georgetown, Massachusetts, Congregational church, "I do love Christ; I place my dependence on him for salvation, and on him alone." The day before his death, partaking of the holy communion, he said, "But my trust is not in the sacrament, but Christ alone."

Few ministers have the enviable record of the venerable and distinguished Rev. Dr. S. H. Tyng, rector of St. George Episcopal Church, New York. In a recent discourse, he gave the result of his twenty-five years ministry in that parish, in which, among many interesting statistics, he stated there had been 1,074 confirmations, and nine hundred had renewed their baptismal pledges. He had made over 25,000 pastoral visits, and preached to more than 500,000 people. Over $750,000 had passed through his hands in the shape of contributions, an average of $8,000 per annum for the first ten years of his ministry, and $48,000 for the last fifteen years—"a sum not paralleled in the history of churches." He also stated that he had been detained from his work by illness only two Sundays.

The General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church will meet this year at Cincinnati, Ohio, May 18th.

The annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Sunday School Society, for the year 1870, will be held at Harrisburg, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 14th, 15th and 16th. George H. Stuart, Esq., is expected to preside. Each Sunday School in the State is invited to send two or more delegates. Pastors of churches, Superintendents of Sunday Schools and prominent Sunday School workers are invited to participate. Persons desiring homes will address Rev. Thomas H. Robinson or John M. Sayford, Secretary, Harrisburg, Pa.

The Pittsburgh M. E. Conference, at its late session in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, took action on one of the live questions of the day that admits of no misunderstanding of the temper of that body and the mind of the people they minister to, as follows: "That any man who will sell his grain, or fruit to a distiller, sign a petition for a license, or rent property to be used in making or vending intoxicating drinks, compromises his Christian character, violates the spirit of the discipline, and should be admonished by his pastor, and if he persists in it, be expelled from the Church."

The Baptist anniversaries are to be held in Philadelphia from May 24th to 26th inclusive.

A Cincinnati paper represents that in Berea, Kentucky, there is no distinction of race or color in the Church or schools. They meet and worship together in the utmost harmony.

Reports from the Congregational churches, connected with the Miami Conference, show that the Vine street Congregational church, Cincinnati, Rev. Henry D. Moore, pastor, formerly of this city, have had recently ninety additions.

The Presbyterian understands that the friends of the Western Theological Seminary, Allegheny City, are very anxious that Rev. Dr. William Paxton, of New York, formerly of this city, shall be permanently and constantly occupied with the duties of his Professorship in that institution, instead of the partial service which he now renders, in connection with his pastoral duties in New York. It says "there are few men in the Church whom we would more gladly see wholly engaged in the training of the future ministry of the Church than Dr. Paxton."

The friends of the Board of Presbyterian Foreign Missions will regret to learn that the financial year, April 30th, closes with a debt of nearly fifty thousand dollars. The friends of this best of causes should see that this debt is removed at once.

THE Philadelphia Ledger says:

> Mr. Mackey, the late State Treasurer, surrendered his keys on Monday, and turned over to his successor $1,762,000 in cash. The whole amount was in funds in bank, to the credit of the State, and not a dollar of due bills or checks, or any other class of paper, heretofore covered up at such times under the convenient title of "vault account." When Mr. Mackey took possession of the Treasury he received $211,000 of this "accommodation paper." He now returns a "clean Treasury," and we hope it will be kept so.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

By the request of many friends of the cause, we print the subjoined report of the address of Mrs. Pauline Danse, delivered before the ladies of the Suffrage Association, on Wednesday last.

LADIES AND FRIENDS:—As previous arrangements had prevented me from being present at your first meeting, I rejoice to-day to be able to greet you. With the help of God, you have been permitted to organize an Association for the benefit of our sex, as well as the male sex.

It is sixteen years since I conceived the first real idea of the necessity of woman's vote. It was in England. It was there I got acquainted for the first time with a victim, not of man's wiles and calculations alone,—no, such ones I had seen before,—but a victim also of laws, made only by man—a victim, not only deprived of her children by a necessary separation from her husband, but deprived also of her very means of living, inasmuch as this man, though a man of prominent position in the city of London, was entitled by law to collect the sums she had earned by faithful, earnest labor. He was mean enough, as unfortunately to this very hour many are, to take from his wife her hard earned bread. Since that, I have seen hundreds of such examples, and come to the naturally logical conclusion that woman has not yet all the rights she ought to have, and that by her vote only she can really succeed to bring on reforms favorable to her sex. Yet it is a long while since this question of woman suffrage has been stirred up, and while many say that there is no foundation for the want of it, thousands have suffered by the want of representation at the ballot box. They waited in patience, saying in their hearts with the Psalmist, "This is my infirmity; but I remember the years of the right hand of the Most High. I will remember the works of the Lord; surely I will remember Thy wonders of old," and bowing down in submission, kneeling down on knees bruised by work and misery, they faltered not, but believed that the right hand of the One who ruleth all things, would help them to overcome armies of hosts.

Our Lord Jesus Christ, when he came to teach us, to bring His Doctrine full of love, He came to all. He did not teach a two-fold Law, but intended to benefit us all. He freed woman alike with man, but man kept her in bondage. St. Paul, in speaking of women, was right, no doubt according to the civilization and moral culture of the century he lived in; a time of horror and barbarism, as is shown best by his own death, though he had lived the life of a Saint. But Christ, whose divine precepts men did not, nor do always live up to, He brought the privileges of Christianity to all of us. His sacrifice was made to benefit all of His followers, and men made laws, which secure these benefits only to their own sex. The One who crushed the serpent's head, He came for all; therefore be not afraid of storms nor waves, ye women. He is walking on the waters as of old. He stretches out His right hand to you forever, as many of us can joyfully testify.

Do not be afraid that men might crucify you, for speaking truth, in doing so they would have to cut down the fruit trees of their own Edens.

Be not afraid if they call you strong-minded women; let us all be rather strong-minded women than weak-minded men. Yes, with a strong, firm mind let us help to build up anew that foundation which has been sorely shaken by law-makers, differing widely from the one and eternal lawgiver. Be of good courage; believe that the Lord is with you, and you shall see Him. Be not afraid of being called old maids; it would be far better if two-thirds of the women were old maids before entering Hymen's temple; we would then see fewer complaining husbands, or wives, fretful, because they cannot have the same set of jewelry as Mrs. Brown or Mrs. Jones has, who drive their husbands away from their homes by these fretting freaks into places where they find comfort; but alas! also snares and traps, devils to make them drink first and then gamble till their homes and their healths are wrecks. Respect yourselves; be devoted wives, good mothers; bring up your children in the fear of God; be wise housekeepers, faithful laborers in God's vineyard; untiring teachers without spreading yourself under a husband's feet like a velvet carpet, only to be crushed, a performance humiliating to the whole sex. Let truth be our motto; do away with falsehood, lies, dissimulation and deceit, which are so often the main features of modern society, follow truly and not apparently the footsteps of Him who said, "I am truth and life." Until this is done, happiness will be a mockery and a hollow sound, society a mere masquerade. Let us live up to truth; many are with us in thought and heart, all have not yet the courage to come forward, but it may cheer you when I tell you that I had the satisfaction to hear from those who yet dare not come forward, words of thankfulness for what we had the courage to do. It tells us again that the Lord ruleth the hearts and all things.

PAULINE DANSE.

OUR GERMAN PRESS.

The Volksblatt advises its Democratic friends to stop "kicking against the pricks" because thereby they gain no advantage. Whether for good or ill, they will in the future have to count on the negro vote, and are not wise if they so conduct themselves as for all time to prejudice the colored vote against them. For the present, at least, the Republican party is sure of this vote North and South, but perhaps the Democrats may still gradually find it profitable to make peace with the XVth Amendment. Besides this the Volksblatt has a few words to say about the female students in the Philadelphia hospitals; an extract on the Bible question from the London Spectator, and, as usual, a short attack upon what it calls "the Puritans, the Pietists and the fanatics."

The Freiheits Freund speaks of "Congressional sleepiness," accusing Congress of do-less-ness and many representatives of neglecting their duty. The people have looked, but only in vain, for some act of importance from this United States Congress which seems to be in a fair way of becoming about as reverend and antique institution as the Congress of the old German Confederacy, under which the German people slept so soundly and securely for fifty years.

In regard to the Female Suffrage question, the ladies are congratulated upon the brightness of their prospects, especially in England, and then the article says: "We have always thought that if the women really have the idea of suffrage in their heads, they will finally get what they ask. It matters not how the men may object, for it seems to have been decided in the council of the gods that we must drain the cup of woman's suffrage to the bottom. A third editorial treats upon the subject of German unity and the gradual growth of a party in South Germany which favors the union of all the Southern States with the great North German Confederacy.

The Republikaner has an editorial upon the doings of Congress which it regards with far from friendly eyes, calls the Congressmen "greedy Radical politicians, humbugs and traitors," and sees no remedy but that of next year sending quite different men (Democrats?) to supercede them.

A Wife's Side of the Story.

One Brice published his wife in the Athens (Tenn.) Post, and the injured lady replies as follows in the same paper:

In reply to the notice in the Post in regard to my leaving his bed and board, he had none; he is mistaken, he had neither bed nor board. He left my bed and my father's board. As for running you in debt, it is something you could not do yourself, for you can't get credit for anything. I understand you have made an application for a divorce, and now to save some lawyer from hard pleading for nothing, I will raise a public collection, for I think the community will help to pay some good blacksmith to make you one out of good iron that will last you your lifetime; so when you get your divorce in your pocket you will weigh heavier than you ever did before, for you are a very light article anyhow. Now I have one request to make of the community—that is for everybody to give him a shake of the paw; then he will laugh himself to death and I will get shut of him.

Respectfully, MARY BRICE.

SENATOR GRAHAM, of Allegheny, was in town to-day. This gentleman has been urged by his friends—and they are numerous—to run for Congress in his district. There is no man in western Pennsylvania whom we would sooner see in our National Council. Everybody in Harrisburg who has made his acquaintance during the many years that he has spent here, will endorse what we say.—Harrisburg Topic.

THE confirmation of Judge Bond, of Maryland, as Judge of the United States District Court, is now assured, and it will heal the troubles in the Republican party in that State.

[FROM MARK TWAIN.]

CURIOUS DREAM.

Containing a Moral.

Night before last I had a singular dream. I seemed to be sitting on a doorstep, (in no particular city, perhaps,) ruminating, and the time of night appeared to be about twelve or one o'clock. The weather was balmy and delicious. There was no human sound in the air, not even a footstep. There was no sound of any kind to emphasize the dead stillness, except the occasional hollow barking of a dog in the distance and the fainter answer of a further dog. Presently up the street I heard a bony clack-clacking, and guessed it was the castanets of a serenading party. In a minute more a tall skeleton, hooded and half-clad in a tattered and mouldy shroud whose shreds were flapping about the ribby lattice-work of its person, swung by me with a stately pride, and disappeared in the gray gloom of the starlight. It had a broken and worm-eaten coffin on its shoulder and a bundle of something in its hand. I knew what the clack-clacking was, then—it was this party's joints working together, and his elbows knocking against his sides as he walked. I may say I was surprised. Before I could collect my thoughts and enter upon any speculations as to what this apparition might portend, I heard another one coming—for I recognized his clack-clack. He had two thirds of a coffin on his shoulder, and some foot and head-boards under his arm. I mightily wanted to peer under his hood and speak to him, but when he turned and smiled upon me with his cavernous sockets and his projecting grin as he went by, I thought I would not detain him. He was hardly gone when I heard the clacking again, and another one issued from the shadowy half light. This one was bending under a heavy gravestone, and dragging a shabby coffin after him by a string. When he got to me he gave me a steady look for a moment or two, and then rounded to and backed up to me, saying:

"Ease this down for a fellow, will you?"

I eased the grave stone down till it rested on the ground, and in doing so noticed that it bore the name of "John Baxter Copmanhurst," with "May, 1839," as the date of his death. Deceased sat wearily down by me and wiped his os frontis with his major maxillary—chiefly from former habit, I judged, for I could not see that he brought away any perspiration.

"It is too bad, too bad," said he, drawing the remnant of the shroud about him and leaning his jaw pensively on his hand. Then he put his left foot up on his knee and fell to scratching his ankle bone absently with a rusty nail which he got out of his coffin.

"What is too bad, friend?"

"Oh, everything, everything. I almost wish I never had died."

"You surprise me. Why do you say this? Has anything gone wrong? What is the matter?"

"Matter! Look at this shroud—rags. Look at this gravestone, all battered up. Look at that disgraceful old coffin. All a man's property going to ruin and distruction before his eyes and ask him if anything is wrong? Fire and brimstone!"

"Calm yourself, calm yourself," I said. "It is too bad—it is certainly too bad, but then I had not supposed that you would much mind such matters, situated as you are."

"Well, my dear sir, I do mind them. My pride is hurt and my comfort is impaired—destroyed, I might say. I will state my case—I will put it to you in such a way that you can comprehend it, if you will let me," said the poor skeleton, tilting the hood of his shroud back, as if he were clearing for action, and thus unconsciously giving himself a jaunty and festive air, very much at variance with the grave character of his position in life—so to speak—and in prominent contrast with his distressful mood.

"Proceed," said I.

"I reside in the shameful old graveyard, a block or two above you here, in this street— There, now, I just expected that cartilage would let go!—Third rib from the bottom, friend, hitch the end of it to my spine with a string, if you have got such a thing about you, though a bit of silver wire is a deal pleasanter, and more durable and becoming, if one keeps it polished—to think of shredding out and going to pieces in this way, just on account of the indifference and neglect of one's posterity!"—and the poor ghost grated his teeth in a way that gave me a wrench and a shiver—for the effect is mightily increased by the absence of muffling flesh and cuticle. "I reside in that old graveyard, and have for these thirty years; and I tell you things are changed since I first laid this old tired frame there, and turned over and stretched out for a long sleep, with a delicious sense upon me of being done with bother, and grief, and anxiety, and doubt and fear, forever and ever, and listening with comfortable and increasing satisfaction to the sexton's work, from the startling clatter of his first spadefull on my coffin till it dulled away to the faint patting that shaped the roof of my new home—delicious! My! I wish you could try it to-night!" and out of my reverie deceased fetched me with a rattling slap with a bony hand.

"Yes, sir, thirty years ago I laid me down there, and was happy. For it was out in the country, then—out in the breezy, flowery, grand old woods, and the lazy winds gossiped with the leaves, and the squirrels capered over us and around us, and the creeping things visited us, and the birds filled the tranquil solitude with music. Ah, it was worth ten years of a man's life to be dead then! Everything was pleasant. I was in a good neighborhood, for all the dead people that lived near me belonged to the best families in the city. Our posterity appeared to think the world of us. They kept our graves in the very best condition; the fences were always in faultless repair, headboards were kept painted or whitewashed, and were replaced with new ones as soon as they began to look rusty or decayed; monuments were kept upright, railings intact and bright, the rosebushes and shrubbery trimmed, trained and free from blemish, the walks clean and smooth and graveled. But that day is gone by.

Our descendants have forgotten us. My grandson lives in a stately house built with money made by me, and I sleep in a neglected grave with invading vermine that gnaw my shroud to build their nests withal! I and friends that lie with me founded and secured the prosperity of this fine city, and the stately house bantling of our loves leaves us to rot in a dilapidated cemetery which neighbors curse and strangers scoff at. See the difference between the old time and this—for instance: Our graves are all caved in, now; our head boards have rotted and tumbled down our railings reel this way and that way, with one foot in the air, after a fashion of unseemly levity; our monuments lean, and our gravestones bow their heads discouraged; there be no ornaments any more, no roses nor shrubs, nor gaveled walks, nor anything that is a comfort to the eye, and even the paintless old board fences that did make a show of holding us sacred from companionship with beasts and the defilement of heedless feet, has tottered till it overhangs the street, and only advertises the presence of our dismal resting place, and invites yet more derision to it. And now we cannot hide our poverty and tatters in the friendly woods, for the city has streched its withering arms abroad and taken us in, and all that remains of the cheer of our old homes is the cluster of lugubrious forests trees that stand, bored and weary of city life, with their feet in our coffins, looking into the hazy distance and not wishing they were there. I tell you it is disgraceful!

You begin to comprehend—you begin to see how it is. While our descendants are living sumptuously on our money right around us in the city, we have to fight hard to keep skull and bones together. Bless you there isn't a grave in our cemetery that doesn't leak—not one. Every time it rains in the night we have to climb out and roost in the trees—and sometimes we are wakened suddenly by the chilly water trickling down the backs of our necks. Then I tell you there is a general heaving up of old graves and kicking over of old monuments, and scampering of old skeletons for the trees! Bless me, if you had gone along there some such nights after twelve you might have seen as many as fifteen of us roosting on one limb, with our joints rattling drearily and the wind wheezing through our ribs! Many a time we have perched there for three or four dreary hours, and then come down, stiff and chilled through and drowsy, and borrowed each other's skulls to bail out our graves with—if you will glance up in my mouth, now as I tilt my head back, you can see that my head-piece is half full of old dry sediment—how top heavy and stupid it makes me sometimes! Yes, sir, many a time if you had happened to come along just before the dawn you'd have caught us baling out the graves and hanging our shrouds on the fence to dry. Why, I had an elegant shroud stolen from there one morning—I think a party by the name of Smith took it, that resides in a plebian graveyard over yonder—I think so because the first time I ever saw him he hadn't anything on but a check shirt, and the last time I saw him, which was at a social gathering in the new cemetery, he was the best dressed corpse in the company—and it is a significant fact that he left when he saw me; and presently an old woman from here missed her coffin—she generally took it with her when she went anywhere, because she was liable to take cold and bring on the spasmodic rheumatism that originally killed her if she exposed herself to the night air much. She was named Hotchkiss—Anna Matilda Hotchkiss—you might know her? She has two upper front teeth, is tall, but a good deal inclined to stoop, one rib on the left side gone, has one shred of rusty hair hanging from the left side of her head, and one little tuft just above and a little forward of her right ear, has her under jaw wired on one side where it had worked loose, small bone of left forearm gone—lost in a fight—has a kind of a swagger in her gait and a 'gallus' way of going with her arms akimbo and her nostrils in the air—has been pretty free and easy, and is all damaged and battered up till she looks like a queensware crate in ruins—maybe you have met her?"

"God forbid!" I involuntarily ejaculated, for somehow I was not looking for that form of question, and it caught me a little off my guard. But I hastened to make amends for my rudeness and say: "I simply meant I had not had the honor—for I would not deliberately speak discourteously of a friend of yours. You were saying that you were robbed—and it was a shame, too—but it appears by what is left of the shroud you have on that it was a costly one in its day. How did—"

A most ghastly expression began to develope among the decayed features and shriveled integuments of my guest's face, and I was beginning to grow uneasy and distressed, when he told me he was only working up a deep, sly smile, with a wink in it, to suggest that about the time he acquired his present garment a ghost in a neighboring cemetery missed one. This reassured me, but I begged him to confine himself to speech, thenceforth, because his facial expression was uncertain. Even with the most elaborate care it was liable to miss fire. Smiling should especially be avoided. What he might honestly consider a shining success was likely to strike me in a very different light. I said I liked to see a skeleton cheerful, even decorously playful, but I did not think smiling was a skeleton's best hold.

AN OLD FALLACY EXPLODED.

Thirty or forty years ago, it was the fashion to administer powerful purgatives as "spring medicines." Terrific doses of salts and senna, calomel, and jalap, or glauber salts were given to all the members of a family, whether sick or well, by way of preparing them for the warm weather in prospect. This pernicious custom is nearly obsolete, but there are some old Bourbons of private life, incapable alike of forgetting anything, or learning anything, who obstinately cling to it still. Nothing could be more pernicious, more utterly unphilosophical, than such an onslaught on the vigor and elasticity of the system. In order to enable the physical structures to resist the enervating effects of spring damps and summer heats, it should be toned and reinforced, not relaxed and weakened. The best medicine agent for this purpose is Hostetters Stomach Bitters. Its effect is to tone the stomach and liver, gently relieve the bowels from obstructions, brace the nerves, improve the quality of the blood, stimulate the appetite and cheer the spirits. In this improved condition the organization is capable of resisting unhealthy influences which would prostrate an enfeebled system. A vigorous digestion is absolutely essential to health, and there is no danger of the stomach faltering or failing in its important office if this general vegetable elixir is taken regularly as a stomachic. None of th tonic tinctures or extracts will supply the place f the Bitters, for the simple reason that they operate as astringents only. In fact, in ordinary practice, five or six prescriptions would be required to produce separately, the beneficial results, which are effected simultaneously, and harmoniously by this single specific.

LOAN
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad

Is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.

When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)

The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of Investors and Capitalists.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST., (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 6, 1870.

The local money market is well supplied with loanable funds, and rates range from 7 to 10 per cent, according to the grade of paper. The demand for local securities is increasing, especially bank stocks and all the munipal and improvement bonds.

Gold was strong at 114⅛ to 114½, with a rising tendency. The market is at present kept down by the large supply of coin on the market.

Government bonds are dull and lower.

Stocks are strong and appear to be on a further rise by manipulation of large operators.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 6, 1870.

The Commercial Advertiser says: "Extensive frauds have been recently perpetrated upon foreign bankers in this city by a Galveston firm—Sessums & Co. It is understood the house has secured large advances upon fraudulent bills of lading from well-known banking houses here, reports stating it between $200,000 and $500,000. Some of the firms swindled hold assets, and are not likely to lose to any large extent; but others suffer heavy losses."

The Express says that late in the day it was denied that any forgeries had been committed, and stated that the reports grew out of a regular failure of a Galveston firm some five weeks since, whose bills have been returned from Europe, unaccepted, for a considerable amount, variously estimated at from £20,000 to £100,000.

There was an increased demand to-day from Frankfort, Berlin and Amsterdam for American railroad bonds.

Money easy at 4@6 per cent., chiefly at 5 per cent. for prime. Discounts 6@7 per cent. National bank notes sold at a discount of 1-16 to ⅛ per cent., and are offered flat for 5 days, at 3 per cent. interest for 15 days.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 6, 1870.

There is little to be said about the markets in a general way. Business, generally, is hardly as brisk as it has been and it begins to look as if the bulk of the spring trade was over; we can, however, report a steady local demand for most of the leading staples, and a fair volume of business in the aggregate, while in regard to values there are no important changes, none at least worthy of special notice. The receipts of grain and produce, generally, are falling off; but stocks, nevertheless, are fully equal to the demand, which is entirely legitimate, as there is an almost total absence of anything like speculation. There have been several very nice openings for speculators within the last thirty days, particularly in the hog product, but so far as we can learn, they were not taken advantage of as the upward movements, as a general thing, were sudden and unexpected.

ASHES—Firmer but not quotably higher. Common Soda Ash 4; refined do, 4⅜; Pearls, 9@9⅛; Pots, 7⅜.

APPLES—In steady demand and limited supply but unchanged; $4@5 per bbl.

BUTTER—Continues dull and drooping, and from present indications, the bottom has not yet been touched. We now quote good to prime fresh roll at 25 to 28. Old stock does not seem to be wanted and is hard to sell at any price.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4⅜; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3⅜; Common, $2⅜@3.

BEANS—There is no improvement to note in the demand and no change to make in quotations, $1,50@2 per bushel.

CORNMEAL—Is in fair demand with sales at 95@$1 per bushel, as to quality.

CRANBERRIES—Season about over and market almost bare.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville cement at $3@3⅜ per bbl.

CHEESE—Sales of new Ohio Factory at 15@16; New York Dairy at 16⅜@17; and New York Goshen at 18.

CARBON OIL—Is steady and a shade stronger, but unchanged; standard brands, 24c in a jobbing way, and 1 to 2c more for small lots.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand is rather better but prices remain unchanged. Apples 6@7 cts; Peaches, 7@7⅜ for quarters, and 8@9 for halves; pared, 16@18. Blackberries, 12@13; pitted Cherries, 25@28.

EGGS—Continue very dull, and cannot be fairly quoted above 14c, although some dealers report sales at 15.

FEATHERS—Live geese feathers are quoted at 85@90, with the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The market is firm but devoid of excitement, and prices although strong are unchanged—there is such an active competition for the trade here that it is hard to get prices up. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $5@5⅜ for spring; $5⅜@6 for winter, and $7@7⅜ for fancy brands. Rye flour, $5.

GRAIN—There is a continued steady demand for wheat, and this market is almost bare; we continue to quote at $1.15@1.20 for red, and $1.25@1.30 for white. Oats continue dull with a supply in excess of the demand, though prices are unchanged—47@48 in first hands, buyers furnishing sacks; and 52@53, in store. Corn although the supply in this market is by no means large, is dull and prices unchanged, 83@85 for ear, and 88@90 for shelled. Rye may be quoted at 95@97, cash, and $1, time. Sales of prime spring Barley at 90; while the offerings continue light, the demand is limited.

HAY—Was rather firmer at the Allegheny market to-day, in consequence of a diminished supply, although there is no change in prices, $12@20 per ton.

HOMINY—Market almost bare, but there is little or no inquiry for it; $6@6⅜ per bbl.

LIME—Is steady but unchanged. Eastern, $1,75; Cleveland, $2,25.

LARD OIL—F. Sellers & Co. report extra No. 1, at $1,30, and No. 2, at $7@88.

PROVISIONS—Market firm, and demand good but prices are without quotable change; Plain Sugar Cured Hams, 19@19⅜; Canvassed do, 19⅜@19⅞; Plain Shoulders, 13⅜@13⅜; Sugar Cured do, 14⅜@14⅜; Ribbed Sides, 16⅜@17; Clear do, 17⅜@17⅞; Lard, in tierces, 17, in [illegible], 18, and caddys, 19⅜@19⅜. Mess Pork [illegible] Dried Beef, 19⅜@20.

POTATOES—Sale 1 car Peach Blows, in bulk, at 33; and one car sacked, at 40, small sales at 43@45. Market slow with a supply considerably in excess of the demand.

PEA NUTS—Dull; prime Tennessee still quoted at 8@9 cts.

SEEDS—There is little or nothing doing in either Timothy or Cloverseed as the season is about over. Flaxseed, $2,15 bid—a round lot would probably bring $2.20.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 6, 1870.

The oil market is steady but devoid of anything new or important. There is considerable inquiry from the east for refined but the prices offered are not satisfactory to sellers, and consequently there are but few sales to report. Hopes are still entertained that the market (we mean here in Pittsburgh) will take a change for the better, that the time will come soon when the prices of crude and refined will be placed on a manufacturing basis, and until that time does come, it is not to be supposed that there will be any permanent or substantial improvement.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 6, 1870.

There is no improvement to note in the iron business, and the prospects in regard to the future are not very encouraging. It is generally believed that there will be no change made by the present Congress in the duty on metal, notwithstanding the Senate voted to have it reduced from $9 to $5, though the fact that the matter is hanging in suspense, tends to stagnate the metal trade, as operators are completely at sea. The sales, as might be expected, are again light this week while prices are nominally unchanged.

In regard to bar iron and nails, there is but little that is new or important. Most of the mills are running but business is unsatisfactory, and there are those who are impressed with the belief that there will be no improvement until towards fall. Owing to the low prices in the east our eastern trade is almost gone, and most of the orders now are coming from the west and south.

RIVER NEWS.

River falling slowly with 4 feet 3 inches in the channel. Considerable rain fell yesterday and the prospects for water are more favorable.

Business is moderately brisk at the landing, as freights are offering pretty freely and tonnage in port is light.

The Brownsville packet E. Bennett, was several hours behind time in reaching this port yesterday, having been detained by running aground during the night.

The Wild Duck and barges arrived yesterday from St. Louis. She put a large amount of iron off at Stubenville, and but for this she would have been here a day sooner.

The Granite State will depart for Portsmouth at an early hour this morning.

The Collier barges are filling up rapidly for St. Louis. Capt. James Shedden is in command, with Capt. Chas. Mathews in the office.

Capt. John L. Rhodes has a new boat under contract at Brownsville.

The Ironsides is enroute from St. Louis with four barges of ore, three for this port and one for Stewbenville. The Mary Davage will also load with ore for Pittburgh and Wheeling.

NEW STEAMER GRANITE STATE.—This is the name of Capt. W. H. Kerr's new Pittsburgh & Portsmouth packet, and it is generally conceded that she is in all respects one of the handsomest and most substantial stern wheel boats that has been constructed here for some time. She is 183 feet in length 34 feet beam and 5 feet depth of hold. The hull, which is an excellent job, was built at California, by Wm. McFall. The engines are from the well known establishment of James Rees; cylinders, 16 inches in diameter with 5 feet stroke. The boilers furnished by Thorn & Co; 3 in number, 38 inches in diameter and 26 feet long. The cabin which is very much admired, being very handsomely and conveniently arranged, was constructed by W. F. Richardson; it contains 34 state rooms, and each room is neatly furnished with the carpeting and fresh and clean bedding. The outfit was furnished by Evans, Dallas & Gilmore, carpets, by Bovard, Rose & Co; upholstery by Edmundson & Co; painting by W. R. Boggs.

The Granite States is owned by Capt. W. H. Kerr, James Rees and the Big Sandy and Cincinnati Packet Company, and is said to have cost from $32,000 to $34,000. Capt. Kerr is no stranger, particularly to the patrons of the Portsmouth trade, as he has been running a packet between here and Portsmouth ever since 1849. She will leave for Cincinnati this morning, but on her return will enter into the trade for which she was built, and Capt. Kerr, says he goes into it to stay, and he would like to see anybody attempt to run him out of it.

—The Lorena arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday, and the Argosy arrived at Cairo the same day with a cargo of iron ore. The Bellvernon was advertised to leave St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

Dr. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, for Diseases of the Liver or to act as a Gentle Purgative.

All of these three Medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrade Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These Medicines are conscientiously offered to the Public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedy for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been proved by the thousand cures it has made through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of this Medicine has saved the life of the patient and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physician, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very sadly diseased and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicine.

Also, in Scrofulous Diseases, these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be able to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone to the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of Consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most highly nutritous articles are to be preferred, but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Seaweed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designated.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect; the system of the patient is invigorated and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of Pulmonic Syrup will effect the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the Liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These Pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the Liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs are almost entirely destroyed and all symptoms according to the judgment of the physician indicated a speedy death. The lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

Dr. Schenck's Almanac contains a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine can be had gratis, or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. de27:d&T

Grave Charge.—Yesterday Susan Hall made information before Alderman Neubert against James Donnelly for adultery. She alleges James has a wife in full life and yet cohabits with another female. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Child Run Over.—About six o'clock last evening a little child, whose name we could not learn, was run over by a buggy on Wylie street, near Tunnel. It was not seriously injured, however, and, so far as we could learn, no blame was attached to the driver of the vehicle.

By reference to an advertisement on our first page, it will be seen that Very Rev. J. Hickey will lecture in the Cathedral on Sunday evening, at 7½ o'clock. Subject, The School and the Bible. As the object is for charitable purposes, the Cathedral should be crowded.

Struck Him.—James Alton made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, setting forth that William M. Fetridge had attacked him on Pike street and abused him without provocation. The case was amicably settled and the prosecution withdrawn, the defendant paying the costs.

Fraud in manufacturing brushes by using tampese and horse hair in paint brushes and whitewash brushes enables the manufacturer to sell cheap and deceive the purchaser. If you want pure brissel brushes, call at Thompson & Co.'s, No. 540 Liberty street. Merchants and dealers note the fact.

Set-to.—Yesterday morning James Shaffer and Phillip Bauer had a hostile meeting in the Second ward Allegheny. James retired with his eyes draped in mourning. To settle the case in a proper way Shaffer subsequently went before Alderman Bolster and caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Bauer for assault and battery.

Obituary.—Elsewhere we announce the death of an interesting little daughter of A. W. Rook, Esq., of the Dispatch, who died yesterday from the measles. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of the parents No. 75 Second avenue, and the friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

Disorderly.—John Stemler, high constable of South Pittsburgh, made information before Justice Barker, yesterday, charging Andrew Hufnagle with disorderly conduct. Hufnagle it appears stoped his horse and wagon in the street, blocking up the roadway, and when requested to "move on" he became "rantankerous." He was required to pay a fine of one dollar and costs.

"All the night long their mournful watch they keep."—A pocket time piece, to be of value, must be correct, and failing in this, it will be but a mournful watch, and demand constant watching by its possessor to keep it going at all. To avoid any such annoyance, procure one of the United States Co.'s watches, for which W. G. Dunseath, 56 Fifth avenue, is the agent in this city.

Ninety Days.—Richard Allen, John Zimmerman and Jacob Edwards were arrested and taken before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, yesterday, charged with vagrancy, and after a hearing were committed to the Work House for ninety days each. Zimmerman is not a stranger at Claremont, as he has served at least one term there, which expired only a few days since.

Overturned.—Yesterday morning a horse and cart were backed over the embankment on River avenue, Allegheny, in front of the Penn Cotton Mill. The animal landed in the water but was not hurt. The wharf is being graded at that point, and the vehicle and animal were used in hauling the dirt for the purpose. The animal was rescued from drowning in the river by cutting the harness.

Gratifying Announcement.—The public generally, and housekeepers in particular, especially those in want of a Looking-glass, will be both gratified and benefited to know that T. H. Chapman, wholesale jobber in Looking-glasses, has opened a full line of glasses at retail, and will sell them at from twenty-five to thirty per cent. less than any other house in the city, at No. 43 Market street, two doors below Third avenue. 6

A Peculiar Annoyance.—Yesterday morning Rachel Kirsh made information before Alderman Donaldson against Mary J. McClintock for malicious mischief. The parties reside neighbors on Church alley, and the prosecutrix alleges that the defendant encourages the visits of male friends at all hours, directing them to call at her (the prosecutrix's) house, thus causing her great annoyance. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was issued.

First Meeting.—The Pittsburgh Barge Club held its first meeting in their new boat house, on Thursday night. The house is now almost finished, and is being handsomely fitted up. A crew will be made up in a few days, when they will give the new boats, recently received, a trial. The uniform for the members has been already selected, and the contract for making awarded to Messrs. Gray & Logan, who will get it up in a neat and tasty style.

Yesterday the pedestrians along Grant street, about two o'clock, were treated to a disgusting exhibition. A drunken driver of a wagon had driven his vehicle up against the curb, and then belabored the horse, over head, legs, and body, because it could not drag the heavy load across the pavement. The brute in human shape only ceased when his strength failed. He then turned his horse and proceeded on his way unmolested and unpunished. We have a splendid field for Bergh in this locality.

Yesterday was a bright and beautiful day, and the streets were thronged with ladies. One of the chief centres of attraction for them was Moorhead's, No. 81 Market street, where all the latest fashions in female attire were displayed in rich and elegant profusion. The store presented a brilliant appearance from the happy combination of handsome faces and gorgeous millinery, lace goods, trimmings, and all the varieties composed in a first class fashionable emporium. Moorhead's is the place to buy.

A Boy Baby was found in a basket at the East Liberty depot, Thursday night, by a policeman. It was well clothed, appeared to be about two months old, and lively as a cricket. In the basket with it were several new suits of clothing, a nursing bottle and other little trinkets. Who left it there is the mystery. No clue has been obtained. No note accompanied it. Some of the neighbors have it in charge, but it will likely be taken to the Poor Farm, as Secretary Fortune has been notified.

Brutal Conduct. — Thursday evening, Mr. Jacob Soffel, a tavern keeper in Mount Washington, while passing through South Pittsburgh, on his way home from this city, was attacked by three ruffians, James Groskey, J. C. Rothe and E. Rothe, ad severely beaten. One of the party, it is alleged, struck Soffel on the head with a "billy" inflicting a serious wound. Information was made before the Mayor charging the Rothes and Croskey with felonious assault and battery and a warrant was issued for their arrest.

The diagrams to be used on the occasion are mammoth size, representing the human eye magnified 10,000 times. They are very splendid, and have been painted expressly for this occasion by a celebrated artist. The lecture night is Monday, May 9th, at Excelsior Hall, Allegheny. That Dr. Franks will handle his subject in a masterly manner we well know. We need not remind our readers that the lecture is free. Tickets can be obtained at this office, at the drug store of R. M. Snodgrass, corner Federal and Robinson streets, Allegheny, and at the drug store of Ellis C. Thorn, Market Building, Allegheny.

A Wife Beater.—Thomas Morris, if we are not misinformed, is a professional wife beater. He makes a practice of beating his wife regularly and occasionally gives her a most outrageous pounding just in the way of amusement. Mrs. Morris has submitted to this inhuman treatment until "forbearance ceases to be a virtue," and now appeals to the strong arm of the law for protection. She made information before Justice Salisbury yesterday, charging him with assault and battery, and a warrant was issued for arrest.

Killed by a Fall.—Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, Alexander, a bright little six year old son of Mr. Alex. Aiken, undertaker, met with an accident which caused his death. He was playing in the second story of an addition to his father's residence, just about completed, when he fell through the open space left for a hearthstone to the first floor, a distance of about ten feet. He was injured internally. Dr. Gilmore was called, and all that was possible was done to save the little sufferer, but to no avail, as he died at one o'clock this morning. The parents have our heartfelt sympathy.

The Market Committee held a meeting last night and considered the plans for the new Fifth avenue market house. From the drawings, which we have examined, we can safely predict that the new edifice will be a model of beauty and convenience. The chairman, with a sub-committee, was instructed to secure an architect for the work. A committee was also appointed, with Mr. Wainwright as chairman, to visit the district comprising the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth wards, to select a suitable site for the market house asked for by the citizens of that part of the city.

Recollection.—Jackson Curry seems to be possessed with a powerful memory. He keeps a saloon in the Pittsburgh Diamond. Yesterday morning Peter Walker entered the establishment to get a drink, when, so he says, he was accosted by Curry, who demanded from him ten cents as payment for a drink received on credit two years before. The demand was of course not complied with, as Walker had no knowledge of such a transaction. A row then ensued and Walker was ejected from the premises. He repaired to Alderman McMasters' office and made information against the accused for assault and battery, upon which Curry was arrested and held to bail for trial.

Serious Accident.—A few days ago a striker employed in the blacksmith shop attached to Workman and Davis' Carriage Manufactory, Beaver street, Allegheny, was severely injured. He was engaged in cutting a bar of iron on the anvil, when a small piece cut from the end glanced off with such force as to enter his abdomen and bury itself beneath the flesh. He was taken to his residence on Franklin street, Allegheny, and a physician summoned, who probed the wound but failed to extract the iron. Last evening it had not been taken out and the unfortunate man was lying in a very precarious condition. He will hardly recover. We could not ascertain his name.

No. 246 Penn Street.

For the benefit of strangers who may be in search of a good dentist, where good work at reasonable rates may be obtained, we refer them to the above number. Dr. Gillespie is an experienced dentist in all branches of his profession, and will warrant the best work at the lowest prices. He makes no charge for extracting when teeth are ordered, and warrants to extract teeth without pain or injury to health. The most incredulous are convinced by taking his improved gas, that he is able to fulfil all he promises.

The Sequel.

Our readers will remember that about two months ago we gave the particulars of the circumstances attending the birth of a child on Water street, Allegheny, about four o'clock one morning. The mother, Mrs. Caruthers, was taken in by some of the neighbors and kindly cared for, but she steadily refused to give any information about the affair, and as soon as able to be about disappeared. The mystery connected with the incident was somewhat cleared up yesterday. Mrs. Caruthers appeared before Alderman Neillie of the Fourth ward, and made information charging Martin O'Conner, a young man, with fornication and bastardy. The accused was arrested, waived a hearing and gave bail for Court.

Spring Millinery.

Ladies should note the fact that Mrs. S. C. Robb, the fashionable Allegheny milliner, has just returned from the East, with the latest novelties and styles. Her establishment is at No. 91 Federal street, where she has opened an assortment which for variety, brilliancy or fashion has never been excelled in this vicinity. It comprises literally everything in the millinery line—laces, feathers, ribbons, plumes, hats and bonnets of all description, flowers, borders, and an endless stock which only the ladies can appreciate. Mrs. Robb enjoys a high reputation as a tasteful and fashionable milliner and we would advise our lady friends to go at once to No. 91 Federal street, Allegheny, and procure their spring millinery.

Watches and Jewelry.

Mr. William G. Dunseath, No. 56 Fifth avenue, has on hand a very carefully selected assortment of fine jewelry, gold and silver watches, rings and trinkets, for use and ornament, to which he invites attention. He is agent for some of the best watches in the market, among which are those of the Waltham manufacture, which have no superior. In the line of ladies watches his assortment is especially varied and choice, and no matter how fastidious the tastes or light the pocket book, those contemplating purchases can hardly fail to be suited. In the matter of rings his stock embraces everything, from the most elaborate wedding souvenir to the simplest and most unpretending styles. We know of no place in the city where purchasers can be better suited, in variety, choice or beauty, than at No. 56 Fifth avenue.

Burglary in Temperanceville.

On Tuesday night last Mr. J. Hamilton's shoe store in the Odd Fellow's building, Temperanceville, was entered by burglars and about sixty pairs of boots and shoes stolen. At an early hour the next morning the thieves were seen by a countryman who was coming to market carrying the boots and shoes toward the river, but he knew nothing of the burglary and of course paid but little attention to the matter. They got in a skiff and crossed to the Allegheny side, where they were seen by two boys, to each of whom they gave a pair of shoes, and requested them not to say anything about having seen them. Information was made before Alderman McMasters yesterday against a man by the name of Whalen, and another whose name we did not ascertain. Whalen was arrested and committed to jail to answer the charge.

Fine Clothing.

Hespenhide & Co.'s is the proper place for gentlemen who desire the best fitting and fashionable clothing. In the assortment of goods offered for a choice no house in the city excells this establishment, and in making up, the aim of Hespenhide & Co. have always been to occupy a front rank among the best merchant tailors. For this purpose the best cutters and the best hands throughout are employed, and every care exercised. This firm has been engaged in the trade for years, and enjoyes a patronage corresponding with their years and merit. We know of no place in the city worthy of more hearty commendation. They have now a fine, new fresh assortment of goods for spring wear, to which attention is invited. Gentlemen can do no better in price or goods than patronizing Hespendide & Co.

Inquest.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday on the body of Thomas Bradley, who was killed yesterday morning by falling out of a window. The following testimony was elicited:

Sarah Heeper sworn—Was in the back yard, and, looking up, saw Mr. Bradley falling out of the window. He appeared badly hurt.

Mrs. Isabella Bradley (his mother) sworn—In the evening he went up stairs to bed; told me to call him at three o'clock in the morning. He sat down by the window and fell asleep. The sash was out, and he must have fallen out.

Dr. Donnelly sworn—Was called about half-past eleven o'clock, and found deceased in a comatose condition, from which he could not be rallied. The cause of death was concussion of spinal chord.

Verdict, that deceased came to his death on May 5th, in the Ninth Ward from injuries received in falling out of the window.

Deceased was twenty-four years of age. He was a single man and born in a Ireland.

The Richmond Sufferers.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, in speaking of the cry for aid from Richmond, says: "Let aid of the most liberal kind go forward at once. It has been too long delayed. Let no one think this aid is not needed. The great and the small, the rich and the poor, have each representatives among the afflicted in this calamity. It is no ordinary occasion, as is evidenced by the fact that it has caused the strong and self-reliant people to set apart a special day for fasting and prayer. Let no one feel exempt from any cause. We know not what hour calamity may befall us. We may then call in vain for sympathy ourselves." Such language is just as appropriate here. In fact we who, twenty-five years ago knew what it was to have a whole city full of people and only half a city to put them in, who felt how grateful is the sympathy of our distant fellow-men in times of public distress should most especially avoid letting any opportunity like this for showing our gratitude pass by unheeded.

Probably Fatal Accident.

A most terrible accident occurred yesterday about one o'clock, at the Etna Iron Works of Spang, Chalfant & Co., Etna boro. An old gentleman, John Nicholson, aged sixty-three, was assisting to shift some coal cars, and while attempting to catch hold of the brake, accidentally fell between the cars. The wheels of the car laden with coal passed over his legs below the knee, crushing them to a jelly.

The injured man was immediately taken to his house and Drs. Marquis, Osterloh and Robinson, of Sharpsburg, called in, when it was found necessary to amputate the injured limbs below the knee.

Mr. Nicholson was employed as a driver by the company, and was a sober, industrious and highly respected citizen of the borough.

The accident will probably prove fatal, as reaction had taken place while the operation was being performed.

His family consists of a wife and four children. Two of his sons in Pleasantville were telegraphed for.

Fatal Accident.

An accident of a very serious nature and which resulted in the death of Sebastian Hobiecht, and the injuring of several others whose names we were unable to learn, occurred at the Superior Iron works near the Marine Hospital, Allegheny, yesterday morning. A train of cars loaded with coal was being run into the mill, over the trestle work leading from the main track of the railroad, when the trestle work gave way and precipitated the train to the ground. Several persons employed at the mill were under the trestle work at the time of the accident, and Hobeicht was covered under a car load of coal, and the others were struck by pieces of timber. Hobeicht was extricated from the work as soon as possible, and a physician summoned, but his injuries were found to be of a fatal character. He was removed to his residence, 160 Franklin street, Allegheny, where he died in a few moments. An inquest was held on the body and the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

THE COURTS.

U. S. District Court—Judge McCandless.

FRIDAY, May 6.—In the case of the United States vs. the brewery, et al, of John Holdstein, previously reported, the jury failed to agree and was discharged.

The case of the United States vs. John Holdstein was continued until next term.

Nicholas LeRoy, alias J. J. Gilroy, indicted for falsely representing a revenue officer, was placed on trial. The defendant was charged with attempting to obtain the sum of five hundred dollars from Mr. Swell, a grocer in the Twelfth ward, by personating a revenue officer. It appears in evidence that Gilroy purchased whisky of Swell, and then returned him for violating the revenue law. Subsequently Gilroy came to Sweil and exhibited a paper purporting to be signed by United States Commissioner Gamble, and authorizing a settlement of the case, which signature was a forgery. The jury found a verdict of guilty without leaving the box. Sentence was deferred till Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

The Grand Jury returned true bills against the following parties: Solomon J. Bear, illicit distilling; Frederick Schild, exercising the business of a wholesale liquor dealer, without payment of the special tax.

The jury in attendance were discharged with the thanks of the Court.

Adjourned till to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

The Grand Jury made the following presentment:

To the Hon. Wilson McCandless, Judge of the United States District Court of Western Pennsylvania:

The members of the Grand Inquest of the United States, now inquiring in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania, most respectfully make the following presentment, to wit:

After a careful inspection of the building in which the United States Court now holds sessions, and in which various United States offices are located, they are decidedly of the opinion that the health and comfort of the officers of the Court and jurors would be better regarded, and the transaction of business facilitated, by certain improvements, as follows:

They find that the rooms set apart for the use of the Grand Jury, as well as other rooms of the United States building, are dirty and badly furnished. In parts of the building plaster has fallen from the ceiling, and lumber of various kinds encumbers the entries.

The water-closets are in a very bad condition, and the foul air and stench arising therefrom are both offensive and unwholesome. The noise occasioned by the passage of wagons over cobble stone pavements, laid in the street in front of the Custom-house, is at times embarrassing to business. They, therefore, recommend that wooden pavements be substituted for the cobble stones. That the offices, entries and water-closets be cleaned, and that certain enumerated articles of furniture, especially needed, be provided. In the court room and jury rooms there is an insufficient number of chairs, and these are all in a bad condition, in many instances being broken. The window shades in the court room are worn out and very dirty. There is great need for a new counsel table, the one in present use being much dilapidated.

There are many other necessary improvements which the Grand Jury cannot specify in detail. They would recommend, however, that a general examination and renovation of the building be made by the proper authorities, and that such necessary improvements as have been mentioned be made.

The Grand Jury must, finally, express great satisfaction with the able and courteous manner in which the Assistant United States District Attorney, W. S. Miller, Esq., in the absence of the United States Attorney, has attended to his duties, and presented his business before them.

J. W. BLANCHARD,
Foreman.

After the presentment had been read, the Court thanked the Grand Jury for the suggestions made, and stated that steps would be taken to have them carried into effect.

Previous to separating, the Grand Jury assembled in their rooms, and unanimously adopted the following vote of thanks:

The members of the Grand Jury of the United States District Court, now holding session in Pittsburgh, beg leave to tender their acknowledgments to the managers of Dixmont Hospital for the courtesy extended them on their late visit to that institution. Dr. Reed being temporarily absent, Dr. Ewing, the Assistant Physician, kindly extended the hospitalities. To him our thanks are due, and also to Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Stater and Miss Keltz. The members of the Grand Jury wish here to bear witness to the admirable condition of the Hospital. The neatness and perfect order everywhere exhibited reflect very great credit on the management.

Our thanks are also due to Gen. Whitely for his politeness to the members of the Grand Jury on the occasion of their visit to the Arsenal.

The thanks of the Grand Jury are due to the Hon. Wilson McCandless, who by his many courtesies much enhanced the pleasure of the Grand Jury during its stay in the city.

J. W. BLANCHARD, Foreman.
CHAS. P. BIDDLE, Secretary.

"Woman Before the Law."

The Woman's Suffrage Association has commenced the campaign with vigor, and very sensibly too. Hardly has it been organized before the announcement is made that the people are to be instructed in regard to its object and the end at which it aims. To carry out this idea, as first on the programme, Miss Phoebe Couzens, the famous lady law student of St. Louis, has been engaged to deliver a lecture on the captivating title given above. The young lady made her debut as a speaker before the Missouri Legislature, while that body was considering the Woman Suffrage bill, which eventually passed but was vetoed by the Governor. Her address on that occasion was of such a character that she was invited to speak to the citizens of her native city, an invitation which she accepted. The result made her famous and placed her in the front rank of platform speakers in the interest of Woman Suffrage. She is spoken of as an eloquent and very pleasing speaker, and a woman of superior mental culture. Logic and not rant, oratory and not scolding, intelligence and not flash characterize her literary efforts in this direction. She is now on her way to the New York convention, and stops only long enough in the city to deliver a lecture to-night at Lafayette Hall. It is unfortunate that she comes while Patti is in the city, but there will doubtless be a large audience in attendance. That they will be pleased and instructed is a foregone conclusion.

Sewer Pipe.

We direct the attention of parties interested to the announcement of Mr. G. C. McMillan, the gentlemanly agent of the Hill & Adams Sewer Pipe Company. Mr. McMillan is prepared to fill all orders for this excellent vitrified water and sewer pipe on the shortest notice. It has been so long in the market and its merits are so well known that no further commendation is needed than the universal favorable testimony of all who have used it. For the purpose designed it is unexcelled. The same gentleman will also supply chimney tops, flues, hydraulic cement, &c., to bricklayers and others, at the most reasonable rates and promptly. Mr. McMillan is well and favorably known in the business community, and the fact that he warrants everything he sells is a sufficient guarantee that it is as represenced. His office and warehouse is at 65 and 67 Sandusky street, Allegheny, where we would advise all in need of anything in his line to direct their orders or call in person and procure their supplies.

THE PATTI OCCASION.

A Large and Brilliant Attendance at the Academy.

Last night at the Academy, the charming vocalist, M'lle Carlotta Patti and her excellent accompanying quartette of musical artists were greeted by one of the largest and most brilliant audiences we have had assembled since the Parepa occasion. The parquette, dress circle, and gallery were filled to repletion by those anxious to pay homage at the shrine of true art and genius, and to acknowledge a vocalist who pre-eminently deserves the plaudits of a musically trained people. Certainly M'lle Patti had no reason to complain of the reception and kindly greeting awarded her here in Pittsburgh where despite our enslaving habits of industry we have ever time to rest from labor and enjoy the finer side of life, and an earnest inclination to encourage art and science.

The programme opened with an exquisite instrumental duo, an adaptation from Flotow's "William Tell," for violin and piano. With the former in the hands of Senor Sarasate and the latter manipulated in the most skilful manner by Mons. Theodore Ritter, a brilliant feast of music was afforded and at its close a hearty encore was awarded the performers. The pretty German song "My Angel" was rendered by Mr. Hableman in good style but that accomplished performer did not seem to be himself, lacking in this, as in a subsequent effort, his usual force, feeling and expression. Perhaps his selections were not judiciously made, and that may explain the absence of strength in his vocalizations. The bright, particular star of the evening made her debut before a Pittsburgh audience in a cavatina, "Linda di chamounix," Donizetti, and her appearance was the signal for rapturous applause. Her voice was in excellent condition, and she soon succeeded in impressing her auditors with her marvelous powers of execution and the justice of her claims for high position on the world's musical stage. We will not attempt to criticise, nor yet in words award her that praise and admiration which she so richly merited. Her vocalization is rich, clear and distinct, and she glides over the most difficult scales, reaches the highest notes and descends to the lowest, with so much ease and grace that effort cannot be discovered. Then her expression is supreme. She fills every utterance with life and sends her words chasing each other in liquid harmony deep down into the souls of her audience, and there they leave an indelible impression. The sweet songstress is gifted with an exceedingly pretty face, expressive of wonderful vivaciousness, and a physical deformity, painfully observable in her walking. renders her all the more interesting and loveable. Her ravishingly sweet voice had hardly ceased to sound in her first offering than a hearty outburst of genuine applause shook the Academy to its very foundation. Nor did this manifestation of pleasure and gratification cease till she bowed acquiescence to the inexorable demands of her enraptured hearers, and rendered "Comin' thro' the rye" in a pretty, simple and yet exquisitively beautiful style. In her interpretation the old song seemed clothed anew, and found warmer place in the hearts of those who were carried away by the artiste.

Mr. Joseph Hermanns, a basso of much power and flexibility of voice, rendered an aria from "La Prophete," Meyerbeer, in fair manner, but he, too, like Mr. Hableman, seemed to lack strength and vitality. In the Opera both would be more at home. A violin solo, fantasie, from Martha, executed by Senor Sarasate, was heartily received and encored. In response to the call, the "Last Rose of Summer" was rendered in beautiful style and marked the artist as worthy place with Ole Bull and Rosa.

The "Carnival of Venice," by M'lle Patti was the conspicuous gem of part second of the grand entertainment. She was vociferously encored and sang in response thereto, a perfect gem in the way of a laughing song. This did not satisfy the tormentors, for such we must call those who make Pittsburgh audiences conspicuous for unjust demands upon artists who, either in singing or acting, meet, with favor. But Patti was too good natured to refuse, and again responded to the demand, singing the song of laughter once more. A piano solo by Mr. Ritter was rendered with brilliant effect, and of course was repeated at the earnest solicitation of noisy enthusiasts, who at least showed that their tastes in a musical direction were well cultivated. Mr. Hermanns was encored in a lively aria, and responded gracefully. A sparkling comical duet from Donizetti by M'lle Patti and Mons. Ritter concluded the concert, and all departed vastly pleased with the rare and unusual feast of music afforded.

To-night the second and final entertainment will be given, with an entire change of programme, at the Academy, for which seats may yet be secured at Kleber's music store, No. 122 Wood street.

The Weather.

The record from 31st of March to 30th of April exhibits twenty cloudy and variable days, of which twelve were rain and snow, nine of sunshine and three of white frost. Daily average of the thermometer 53 3-10 deg. River 10 feet Amount of rain fall 3 7-10 inches. In 1869 the same days showed an average thermometer 48 degrees and the river 8 feet.

April has been unusually free from hard freezes and sudden changes, with a remarkable uniformity of the temperature of the atmosphere. The lowest temperature was on the 4th and 8th, 35 degrees; the maximum, on the 14th and 24th, 78 and 80 degrees.

To this time the prospects of the farmer for production, and the community for a healthy atmosphere, are as good as any previous year. One decidedly favorable trait of this season is an absence of thunder storms. In February, March and April three short storms only have occurred. By previous observation it has been ascertained that if from ten to twenty thunder storms prevail in those months, a dry July and August, and an unusually unhealthy atmosphere, are the results.

There has been but little murmuring among the farmers, complaining of a too backward season, cold nights, &c. We are to run the gauntlet of the long northeast and east wind rain storms, which usually prevail about the 10th to the 25th of May. If the discharge of rain is large and copious, it suddenly chills the air and changes the wind to the northwest, and the first and second mornings are liable to develop white frosts or a freeze when the blossoms are in a delicate state. If the earth continues saturated with water, the hot June sunshine will bring thunder storms, so necessary for a vigorous growth.

INDICATIONS.

From the 30th April to the 30th of May, twenty-one cloudy, variable days, fifteen of which rain and nine of sunshine. The indications show not very heavy rains, but dark and cloudy, with warm showers of rain, which may preserve us from injurious frost.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—A large audience assembled at the Opera House last evening, which was the occasion of Mr. Chanfrau's farewell benefit. The bill was one of exceeding interest, embracing "Solon Shingle," and "Toodles," both of which afforded ample scope for Mr. Chanfrau's versatile talent as a comedian. His support was excellent in both pieces. Chanfrau matinee this afternoon, and his engagement closes with this evening's entertainment. On Monday night Mr. Edwin Adams commences an engagement at the Opera House.

MERCY HOSPITAL FAIR.—The fair now in progress at City Hall will be continued next week, and we expect to see the hall filled nightly. There will be a matinee this afternoon at two o'clock. Let all the little folks attend. The circus is now in good trim, and will no doubt be a source of great enjoyment to them. The voting on the afghan is quite spirited, and many of our leading M. D.s are anxious, as it is a great test of their popularity, and they all have a lively interest in the welfare of the Mercy Hospital.

BRILLIANT AUDIENCE.—Notwithstanding the appearance of Carlotta Patti at the Academy, Miss Goldstecker, of St. Louis, attracted a brilliant assemblage at Masonic Hall last night, and all who were present expressed unbounded satisfaction and pleasure with the performer. We hope the concert may soon be repeated under more auspicious circumstances.

"That Female."

A Pennsylvania batchelor thus impeaches "the girl of the period:" "I impeach her in the name of the great whale of the ocean, whose bones are torn assunder to enable her to keep straight. I impeach her in the name of the peacock, whose strut, without permission, she has stealthfully assumed. I impeach on her in the name of the horse, whose tail she has perverted from its use to the making of wavy tresses to decorate the back of her head and neck. I impeach on her in the name of the kangaroo, whose beautiful figure she, in taking upon herself the Grecian bend, has brought into ill-favor and disrepute. I would impeach on her in the name of economy but that she exhibits a degree of reason in purchasing her "Saratoga's" and traveling satchels at Liebler's, No 104 Wood street. This is the one redeeming feature of her character. She realizes and acts according to the truth, that, Liebler has the finest, cheapest, most varied and best assortment of trunks, valises and ladies' traveling satchels to be had anywhere. Liebler has all the styles, and all the varieties that have ever appeared in his line of trade. His mammoth emporium No. 104 Wood street is stocked from cellar to roof with the assortment that is worthy of visit of inspection whether purchasing or not." Emulate the girl of the period and patronize Liebler.
